Dear Hugh

Thank you from National Youth Theatre!

Thank you very much for your donation of £505.75 to the National Youth Theatre of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. You are enabling creative young Britons to develop their skills in theatre on stage and behind the scenes. NYT's work gives young people a competitive edge and supports their career development.

Every year we are proud to invest over £650,000 in FREE opportunities for young people from all over the country.

- The NYT Bursary Fund gives those who are facing financial hardship the chance to take part in our auditions, our summer courses in performance and backstage theatre skills, and our productions.
- The NYT REP Company gives FREE practical training to 16 of our most talented members – a direct and credible alternative to drama school. This 8 month programme includes workshops, masterclasses and a repertory season of performances. Each Company member is supported by an industry mentor and a bursary.
- Playing Up gives FREE practical training to 25 young people who are not in education or employment and leads to an accredited qualification that enables progression to higher education. The course culminates in a production at a professional venue to a paying audience.

Donors like you are vital to ensuring NYT can continue our mission of putting young people centre stage of their lives.

Thank you for supporting the world's first and best youth theatre.

Yours,

Paul Roseby
